Murray Pilot Surrenders In Texas Friday

A Murray man who has been sought on a fugitive warrant since June has reportedly turned himself in to Texas law enforcement officials.

Max Putnam, a Murray pilot, has reportedly been released on bond in Texas after surrendering there Friday, according to Texas officials.

Putnam had been sought on warrants in Texas and Murray as the alleged pilot of a local airplane that crashed June 10 near Hereford, Texas.

The airplane, a Cessna Skymaster, was loaded with nearly 1,000 pounds of marijuana. The airplane is listed by the F. A. A. as belonging to Dr. James Ray Ammons, of Calloway County.

At the time of the crash, Texas officials said the plane left Murray early that week, apparently flew to Mexico, where the marijuana was picked up, and ran out of fuel on the return trip. The pilot of the plane apparently intended to refuel at Amarillo, Texas, but mis-calculated his fuel by 56 miles.

The street value of the contraband was estimated at $250,000.

The airplane, which was damaged in the forced landing, has since been returned to Murray, after minimal repairs to make it ferriable.

A Mayfield man, John Charles Raidt, was also apprehended and charged in connection with the plane crash. Raidt was released here on $100,000 bond after being charged on a fugitive warrant, and was also released in Texas on bond. Charges in Texas have since been dropped, and the matter turned over to Federal authorities.

OOPS

Many of our readers were probably puzzled when they received Friday's edition of The Murray Ledger & Times and noticed that the front page carried a Thursday, Dec. 9, 1976 dateline.

The newspaper delivered yesterday really was Friday's paper, but due to a slip-up in our composing room, the date on the front page was not changed prior to going to press. The other pages in Friday's edition did carry the correct, Friday, December 10, dateline, thank goodness.

There's not much we can say other than our face is red.

Ford Opens Field Office Here Friday

U. S. Senator Wendell Ford was in Murray Friday to open his field office here, located in the Post Office building on the second floor.

Ford met with several community leaders and visitors as he held an open house at the new office.

The senator also answered questions in a short press conference held early in the afternoon.

Sen. Ford said he would support a tax cut of from $8 billion to $12 billion if proposed by President-elect Jimmy Carter, as well as a $2 billion to $5 billion public works projects as methods of stimulating the economy.

Ford said he does not feel that a tax cut would be a long term measure, but rather a "one-shot deal" to get the economy moving again.

On other topics, Ford:

— Said that he feels an appropriation to fund the investigation of the Kennedy assassination is a great deal of money to spend, but that if it finds new answers to the questions into the assassination, it may be worth it.

— On the question of what Gov. Carter's election will mean to Kentucky, Ford said he feels that several appointments to key positions in the Carter administration may be gained through the election. He declined to give any names, but predicted several "surprises" when the final appointments are made.

— Said he fully supports the two-party system, and would not like to see the decline of the Republican Party.

— Said he plans to visit the Murray office as much as possible, and feels that having a full time staff will facilitate communication between his Washington office and his constituents.

— Said he foresees no changes in funding for public higher education, either in cutbacks or increases.

— Predicted some changes in the committee structure of the senate committees of which he serves, as well as others.

Tobacco Stolen

From Local Farmer

About 900 pounds of tobacco was stolen from the farm of Monroe Hester in the Kirksey community the Calloway County Sheriff's office reported Friday afternoon.

The tobacco, which was reportedly stolen sometime Thursday night, was valued at an estimated $1,200 according to a sheriff's department spokesman.

The sheriff's department spokesman said that this is the first theft of tobacco reported in Calloway County but he urged farmers to keep a close watch on their beans because the scarcity of this year's crop will make it more valuable and more easily marketed by thieves.

Any suspicious incidents should be reported immediately to the Calloway County Sheriff's office.

Report By Murray State Staffer Is Gaining National Attention

A report on violence and vandalism in the schools prepared by Philip Deaver of the Center for Continuing Education at Murray State University and released in late October is already gaining national attention.

Entitled "Violence and Vandalism in the Schools: The Problem and How to Address It," the 56-page monograph is a product of research done by the School Violence Committee of the National Community Education Association (NCEA). Deaver headed that seven-member committee as chairman.

Larry Horyna, director of the Northwest Community Education Development Center at the University of Oregon and recently installed as the new president of NCEA, lauded the report as one that "will become the most widely distributed item NCEA has ever produced."

Calling it a timely and significant contribution to community education and NCEA, he said he has already personally recommended it to community education representatives of Alaska and British Columbia.

Deaver, who joined the staff at Murray State this fall as coordinator of professional and special activities and assistant professor of adult and community education, said the committee began its research in the summer of 1975.

The NCEA project was inspired by a preliminary report on school violence and vandalism published by the U. S. Senate Judiciary Subcommittee to Investigate Juvenile Delinquency. Among the startling findings of that 18-month study by the subcommittee chaired by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., was the revelation that vandalism in the schools cost the U. S. taxpayer $600 million a year in the three-year period from 1970 to 1973.

Deaver said the general thrust of the paper is not to demonstrate that community education — which he described as a learning process that benefits all people within a community — is necessarily a cure for the problem of vandalism.

"Instead, it was intended to indicate the scope of the problem, to explore causes, to offer information concerning measures which have been taken to address it, and to suggest roles community education leaders might assume in the pursuit of solutions to their specific problems," he explained.

He cited statistics in the Bayh subcommittee study of 757 urban, suburban, and rural school districts with a total population of almost half the nation's 45 million public school students — and he noted that the picture is indeed grim. Besides the vandalism cost each year, he said that study shows the following:

— In 1973, 100 students were murdered in the school districts in the survey.

— Each year (1970-73) 70,000 teachers were assaulted.

— Each year 155,000 teachers had property maliciously damaged.

— During that three-year period there was a 54.4 per cent increase in the number of dangerous weapons being confiscated.

Other members of the NCEA School Violence Committee which compiled the research for the report were: Linda Hartwig, assistant director of the Community Service Council, Romeoville, Ill.; David Wilkinson, director of community education in the Indiana State Department, Indianapolis; Dr. John Palmer, director of community education and recreation in the Alma (Mich.) Public Schools; Dr. Donald Weaver, director of Mott Foundation Advanced Training Programs at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo; Dr. Michael Kaplan, assistant director of the Mid-Atlantic Center for Community Education at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville; and Albert Stefurak of the Center for Community Education of the University of Florida, Gainesville.

Funds provided by the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation have provided much of the support for the development of 15 regional community education centers across the country, and the NCEA is an outgrowth of the national community education effort.

Deaver, who earned the B. A. degree at St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Ind.; was awarded Mott Fellowships to do work on the M. A. degree at the Institute for Community Education Development (ICED) at Ball State University, Muncie, Ind., and to work toward the Ed. D. degree at the Mid-Atlantic Center for Community Education at the University of Virginia. He has completed the course work and is writing his doctoral dissertation.

Both the community education centers at Ball State and the University of Virginia, along with the NCEA, are handling the distribution of the report on violence and vandalism.

Colder

Colder with rain diminishing today. Highs today in the mid 30s to near 40. Lows Saturday night in the low to mid 30s. Cold with a chance of rain Sunday. Highs in upper 30s and lower 40s. Outlook for Monday, cloudy and cold. Probabilities of measurable precipitation 80 per cent today, 50 per cent tonight and 20 per cent Sunday.

NO ONE INJURED — No one was injured in this accident at 12th and Story Friday afternoon, according to Murray Police. The driver of the car, Jan K. Allbritten, 1516 Canterbury, said she tried to avoid another vehicle that pulled out in front of her car, and struck a large rock near the street on the Peoples Bank property. The car was immobilized after landing on top of the rock, which had to be moved before the car could be towed away.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR MONDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1976

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Some changing conditions, new trends indicated. You won't like them all immediately, but many are better than they appear at a glance.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21)

Your planets now stimulate initiative, creativity; also help you to handle tedious tasks with a brighter spirit.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

Mercury beneficent. Under such fine influences, you should be alert, eager and enthusiastic. Especially favored: writing.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

You may be concerned about certain angles of a situation. Insight is available, but you'll need the help and knowledge of an expert to attain it.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

A hunch could pay off now—especially in career matters. But be sure you are seeing persons and situations in a realistic light.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Try to have a talk with individuals important to your interests. A bit of diplomatic maneuvering could have fine results. But avoid intrigue.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Personal relationships under something of a cloud. Be especially careful in family discussions lest emotional tensions build up.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23)

A good day for business enterprises. You may get some information you have been seeking for some time. Don't make decisions hastily, however.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

One of your top days for attainment, but strengthen present status before tackling new ventures. Use that extraordinary good judgment of yours.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Curb a present tendency to "borrow" trouble. Tact and a firm handling of your program can control situations and bring you the dividends due.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

A mixed day. Job associates are in tune with your efforts right now, but you can expect some ups and downs in a romantic situation.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

A deal made with important persons should up your status, bring gains. Just be sure you are aware of every angle.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly independent individual, restless and freedom-loving. Despite these traits, however, you will stick to the job at hand and, whatever it is, will accomplish thoroughly and well. You have an extremely logical mind and enjoy both study and research; would make an excellent scientist—especially in the fields of medicine, engineering or geology. In the business or financial world, you could become a top executive, an outstanding counselor. The law is another excellent outlet for your talents and, on the creative side, so are writing and music. Birthdate of: A. Lawrence Lowell, lawyer, educator, writer; Drew Pearson, newspaper columnist.

Needs a Brother, Not a Lover

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a recently divorced 26-year-old man. I'm a college graduate and have a good job. My problem is a girl named Marcie. She will be 14 next week but she's very mature for her age and looks much older.

Marcie and I hit it off immediately, and it was soon apparent that she wanted to be more than just friends. I tried to ignore her not-too-subtle advances, hoping it would pass, but I must admit I was very much attracted to her. She's very pretty, bright and extremely honest. She told me she has gone all the way with several fellows, but she's not a tramp—she just has a healthy sex drive. We've done some kissing and heavy petting, but I wouldn't let myself go beyond that because of her age.

I'll be truthful, Abby. If it weren't for what people would say about my dating a 14-year-old girl, I'd date her, not because I know she'd be "easy," but because I do have strong feelings for her.

Is something wrong with me to feel this way about a girl half my age? What should I do?

CONFUSED AND WONDERING

DEAR CONFUSED: Nip this inflammable relationship in the bud. Should you get carried away by this aggressive little sexpot with a "healthy sex drive," you would be contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Marcie desperately needs counseling. Do her a favor and help her get her head together before she gets into serious trouble. She needs a big brother—not a lover.

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing this for our whole family. Our problem is our 30-year-old sister. She is very intelligent, holds a highly respected position, and makes a fantastic salary, but she thinks our bathroom is a library.

She takes magazines, books and newspapers into the bathroom and stays for hours. It's the only bathroom in the house, and besides our parents there are four of us younger kids living at home.

If anyone knocks on the door to use the bathroom, she gets angry. Please put this in your column. She reads it every day—in the bathroom.

KID SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Your sister may be very intelligent, but she is also very inconsiderate. If she plans to continue living at home and using the family bathroom as a library, she should use some loot from her "fantastic salary" to build a second bathroom.

DEAR ABBY: Two of my friends recently had surgical staples placed in their ears by a doctor to help control their overeating.

Can you give me some information concerning the validity of this procedure? Is it a physical technique, or is it just psychological, such as doctors giving patients "sugar pills"? Can these staples be harmful to a person's health?

CURIOS IN TEXAS

DEAR CURIOS: It's psychological. It has worked for some, but not for all. The only danger (which is slight) would be possible infection from the staples. Ask your friends who have them. They should know.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky, Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (24¢) envelope.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR SUNDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1976

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Shun controversies which merely take up time and dissipate energies. Change your mode of approach if the occasion demands.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21)

This day should turn out satisfactorily if you are master of your emotions under all circumstances. Especially favored: family concerns and outdoor interests.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

Don't anticipate problems. Study, act, think in a careful manner. Mixed influences prevail, so be mindful. Avoid gossip and rumor-mongers.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

You may have to do some extra maneuvering, revise some plans. Don't go too far out on a limb, however. Stability needed.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

What is significant to you may not be to others, so be careful how you express your views and don't PRESS for results.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

A sense of responsibility and pluck will be needed now. Situations may not work out as expected. Don't panic; step cautiously, knowingly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Day should prove stimulating in many ways, many areas. One of your more casual interests will now take on importance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23)

Do not be deceived by high-sounding promises. Study persons and situations with your usual keen perception, then act as your best judgment dictates.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Keep emotions under control and do not make drastic or needless changes on the spur of the moment. Be especially careful in romantic involvements.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

A day for listening! Something hinted at will be of more importance than what is actually said; may put your thoughts on an entirely new track.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

A bit of daring could pay off now. Don't hesitate to try unique ideas, methods. You're thinking along the right lines.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

Objectivity and a strong sense of realism needed. Don't look for much cooperation from others and don't count on luck to help you hurdle possible barriers to your goals.

YOU BORN TODAY have been endowed with a high order of intellect; are objective and keenly analytical in your thinking. Many professions are open to you, but you would probably make your greatest success in the law and, as a judge, could attain great eminence. You could also succeed as a statesman, diplomat, journalist or, in the theatrical world, as a dramatic actor. Whatever your career, however, you can become a "power"—not only in your own environs, but far afield. Birthdate of: John Jay, early Amer. statesman; Gustave Flaubert, Fr. novelist; Frank Sinatra, singer; Edward G. Robinson, film star.

Echoes From The Past

(A Column of historical and genealogical anecdotes, stories and family notes.)

Written By Judith A. Maupin

Many of the stories which I have collected over the last few years, have necessarily concerned, in one way or another, cemeteries. This is because whenever I talk to people, it is with the purpose of either finding a cemetery or discussing who might be buried in one. And, as serious a subject as this may seem to be, I have heard many humorous stories about them, along with some that struck a note of pathos.

There was one couple—for obvious reasons, I cannot use names—who, when I was recording the cemeteries between the rivers, turned out to be buried in separate cemeteries. There didn't seem to be any obvious reason for this, such as her dying much earlier than he, or being buried with her family, as was often the case with young wives. So, one day, I ran into a member of the family who remembered the couple and I asked him why this was so.

"Well," he said, "I reckon they felt like they had spent enough time together when they were alive. So she said, when she went, that she didn't want to get put in the same graveyard with that old so-and-so."

There is another cemetery of which I know, where almost all the members of a particular clan are buried—all but two members. Being naturally curious about this, especially since the two were buried less than a mile away, and right alongside a gravel road by themselves, I asked around until I found someone who knew the story. This venerable old lady, once she had understood my question, told me that the man who was buried outside the family plot had been "mean"—in fact, not just "mean" but "awful mean, the worst one in a family that was known for its meanness." He was so bad that the family wouldn't put him alongside his wife, but interred him alongside the road near where he had lived.

But even as mean as the man was, there was one person who loved him, and that was his little grandson. The boy had always said that if anything ever happened to him, he wanted to be buried alongside his grandfather, so that he would not be alone. Not very many years later, the boy died, and honoring his request, he was placed alongside his grandfather, who is no longer alone.

Every time someone who has not always lived around here, such as a college student, or someone who just likes to drive around Land Between the Lakes, finds out that I am well acquainted with the cemeteries over there, invariably they will say, "Oh, have you seen that grave marked 'unknown baby'? What's the story behind that?" And I have to confess that as much time as I have spent in LBL's cemeteries, I have yet to come across this legendary grave. To be honest, I believe that it's a figment of someone's imagination, a story that was started and then embellished as it went along. But then I could be wrong.

Isn't It The Truth

Mothers of marriageable daughters despair when a certain type of young man comes on the scene. If he is handsomely beautiful, physically daring, pleasantly wicked and completely broke, there is no way short of murder to persuade against him.

Funny Funny World

FOOD

Baltimore — Those who didn't show up at Baltimore's Bicentennial birthday party can rest assured they can still get a piece of cake. There's plenty left—in fact, 380,000 slices. Cake promoters said Monday they had sold only 20,000 pieces of the city's 69,000-pound birthday cake, which floated down the Patapsco River at midnight Saturday. Pieces of the big dessert were sold for $2 each during the 12-hour Bicentennial celebration at Ft. McHenry Saturday and Sunday. The cake was Baltimore's Bicentennial tribute to America, but apparently there is nothing inspiring or patriotic about sampling a piece of the world's largest cake. "You mean it's all white?" complained one young girl at Ft. McHenry. "Isn't any of it chocolate?" When learned none of it was, her friend said, "Let's get some ice cream." (Baltimore Sun)

If God had meant us to eat peanut butter, He would have given us Teflon guns. (Orben's Current Comedy)

Is the hamburger an American invention? Researchers at Texas A & M University say that, although many seem to consider the hamburger an American food, it was actually introduced in the United States by German immigrants.

Sales of oranges are booming in Singapore after an English housewife declared that rubbing them into her husband's hair was a good cure for baldness. (Bratford, England Telegraph)

Herman Hickman, the football coach who tipped the scales at about 300 pounds, had a blimp-like figure and an appetite to match his girth. Once, in a restaurant, a friend watched him in awe as he consumed a mountain of food. "Why do you eat so much?" asked the friend. "It keeps me in shape," explained Hickman.

Jerrico leads Kentucky Companies

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Kentucky's 20 fastest growing publicly-held companies showed an average sales increase of 172 per cent for the first half of the 1970s.

The leader in the group was Lexington-based Jerrico, Inc., with a 928 per cent jump in sales between 1970 and 1975. The survey, based solely on increases in revenues, appears in the December issue of the Kentucky Business Ledger, which was published today.

Warren Rosenthal, Jerrico president, told The Ledger that he expects substantial continued growth at more modest percentage levels. He said government intervention will be the greatest obstacle to achieving growth objectives.

In a companion story, The Ledger reports this month that the Commonwealth's leading publicly-owned companies continued to record handsome profits, contrary to general trends nationally. Kentucky Business Ledger, which completed its first year of operation with this issue, is a monthly newspaper devoted strictly to coverage of Kentucky business and finance.

Here Is A Selection Of Christmas Gifts For Your Outdoorsman Husband Or Friend

By Hope Carleton

With Thanksgiving over, most of us turn our thoughts toward Christmas and the problem of the right gift. If you are buying a present for a hunter or fisherman, this problem can be eased considerably, for there are literally hundreds of items in all price ranges that the sportsman will welcome.

The best bet for the person who knows little about hunting and fishing equipment is to seek the advice of a knowledgeable salesperson in a sporting goods store about brand names, styles and sizes. A safe practice is to stick to the medium-priced article, which is usually of high quality and lacks only the frills or the flash of a more expensive counterpart. The low-price items may not meet the needs of the sportsman, or they may be poorly constructed of low-quality materials.

Anyone contemplating a major gift, such as a boat and motor, should forego the element of surprise and let the recipient choose his own, since he will probably have some definite ideas about what he needs and wants.

For the fisherman, choice gifts are tackle boxes, lures, lines, tools, fish stringers, hooks, sinkers, filleting knives, bait knockers, flashlights, small first aid kits, reel oil and gear lubricants. Or the fisherman may welcome some of the new electronic gadgets, such as electric trolling motors, depth finders, electronic thermometers, or oxygen meters.

For the hunter, there are rifles, shotguns, bows and arrows or other archery equipment, gun cases, telescopes, binoculars, gun racks, shells, decoys, hunting coats, pants, boots, caps, duck and goose calls, reloading tools, pocket and sheath knives, shooting glasses, cleaning kits, or even sharpening stones.

For either hunter or fisherman, there are tents, sleeping bags, air mattresses, lanterns, thermos jugs, insulated inner and outer wear, rain gear, life-saving devices, ice chests, camp stoves and heaters, or even camp cooking utensils.

Or if the sportsman on your list also likes to read, you might consider giving him a subscription to a hunting and fishing magazine, or making a gift of one of the many books on hunting, fishing, camping, or woodlore which are available at most bookstores. Another possibility is "Kentucky Happy Hunting Ground," the official publication of the Department of Fish and Wildlife. A one-year subscription (six issues) costs one dollar and is available from the Division of Public Relations, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Ky., 40601.

Finally, there is one gift which any sportsman will find absolutely necessary. This gift will be good for an entire year, and the hunter or fisherman will need it each time he goes into the field or to the lake. This gift is a 1977 hunting or fishing license ($5 each) or a combination license ($9), good for both fishing and hunting. The 1976 licenses expire on Dec. 31, so one for next year can be used almost immediately.

Licenses are available at the offices of all county clerks, and many sporting goods also sell them. You don't need to worry about a license being the wrong size or color, and it's a gift no sportsman will return.

So get your shopping done early and avoid the rush.

Fourteen year old Kent Eversmeyer got this six point buck with a 12 gauge shotgun in Calloway County on Saturday, December 4. The deer field dressed at 115 pounds. Kent, a freshman at Murray High School, shot the deer at about forty yards with one shot. He was hunting with his brother, Clair Eversmeyer, and Reed and Ray Hornsby.

Don Hatcher of Murray Route Eight got this four point buck in the Blood River area of Calloway County on December 5. The deer field dressed at 130 pounds. Hatcher used a Marlin 35 to down the deer.

James Thomas of New Concord, Kentucky, bagged this 9-pointer earlier this week during state-wide gun season for deer. The four-year-old buck dressed out 140 pounds and had an inside antler spread of 17 and five-eighths inches.

Bowhunter's Bag

By Barry William Drew

Cold Weather Hunting Fewer Hunters' Less Hassle

Once again bowhunting season is just around the corner.

L.B.L. opens up on December 18th for 14 days of bowhunting while the statewide season comes in on December 15th and remains open until the 31st.

What you see is what you get and while L.B.L.'s 14 day "second season" isn't as long as the first season it is minus some of the hassle.

Hunting the "second season" offers the bowhunter the opportunity to hunt under almost ideal conditions.

Few bowhunters will be in the field during really cold weather. The hardy bowhunter will have his hunting territory almost all to himself. That is a delightful thought to a bowhunter who finished the first season talking to himself because he saw more bowhunters than deer during October.

The second season bowhunter will need to pay attention to his preparation for cold weather hunting.

It is very difficult to remain still in a tree stand during ideal weather conditions. This difficulty is compounded during cold weather if the bowhunter has not equipped himself with clothing that will keep him warm during the several hours he will remain on stand.

A cold bowhunter quickly becomes a disgusted bowhunter and soon finds himself in his car heading home where it is warm. We all know that a great many deer are harvested at home but they are not the kind that you take pictures of.

A good insulated coverall will go a long way toward being truly comfortable during the cold weather hunting that is coming up. These "snow suits" are very warm while not being too bulky to allow the bowhunter the freedom of movement that he needs to shoot when the time is right. Further, these suits make a great deal of bulky under clothing unnecessary.

A good "snow suit" along with insulated "long johns" and light weight outer wear is all that is needed for the bowhunter to remain quite warm during the hunt.

Insulated boots make all the difference in the world when the weather is cold. A good pair of insulated boots will cost several dollars but the investment will be well worth it. When these boots are combined with "wick" type socks (wick socks keep moisture away from the feet. This moisture gets cold and so do the feet.) The feet stay warm and the bowhunter stays on stand.

Cold feet will bring a bowhunter down from his stand about as quickly as a fall. If you keep your feet warm you will enjoy the hunt a whole lot more.

Gloves for bowhunters have always been a problem. A real good glove is no problem on the bow hand. All that is required is practice with the glove before going to the field. Most gloves are bulky but with practice the "feel" of the bow handle will become familiar and shooting will not be effected.

The shooting hand is where problems are encountered.

A great many bowhunters shoot with a shooting glove. These gloves require that the three shooting fingers be left out in the open and they do get cold.

One solution is to keep the shooting hand under cover in a pocket until the shot is to be made.

Some bowhunters wear a glove over the shooting glove and they remove it prior to making the shot. This procedure is not really difficult if it is practiced before trying it in the field.

A knit type hat with a face mask will protect the face from the cold and will not interfere with shooting if time is taken to practice with the mask in place. If you don't like face masks then grow a beard.

Cold weather bowhunting can be very rewarding because there will be fewer bowhunters in the field and that alone is reward enough for me. With proper preparation of cold weather gear you can be as comfortable on stand as you would be if you were home in front of the TV.

Good luck and good bowhunting!

The Duck Call

By Charlie McKenney
Ducks Unlimited Secretary

Last week's article touched only briefly on some of the safety aspects of duck hunting on the lakes.

Since I know that many hunters will go duck hunting regardless of the weather conditions, I will try to give some helpful hints that could save your life.

Always wear a life jacket when in a boat. Very simple. Right! If you forget your life jacket, some items in the boat that you might use if the boat did overturn are a paddle, a partially filled gas tank, a sack of decoys, a single goose floater or even one or two duck decoys. Any one of these items might just make the difference between keeping you afloat or all those clothes causing you to sink to the bottom.

All boats made in the last few years will float in some manner unless you have taken out a seat. I know some duck hunters have removed a seat or two to make room for more gear. In this case it would be wise to add a chunk of styrofoam in the bow or somewhere in the boat so you would at least have a chance of hanging onto the boat until another hunter could give you some help.

If you are out on the lake and there are not any other hunters, you will have to take action immediately to reach shore or an island. In these freezing or near freezing temperatures you just can't last long if you are completely wet and without shelter.

If you should find yourself in the water without any help nearby, about the first thing to do is take off your chest waders, hip boots, or large insulated boots. Also remove any large bulky hunting coat that might restrict you from being able to swim. You should then start swimming to the nearest land, using any of the items in the boat that will help you float.

One thing to think about before you start swimming is what do I find when I reach the island or shore? Is there a house, a duck blind, trees, or bushes? Because after you reach land you are still not going to survive unless you can build a fire and dry the clothes you have on. Now if you are lucky there will be a cabin on the shore with gas heat, lots of blankets, hot water (for a cup of coffee), telephone (to call and find out what the temperature is), and a T.V. (to watch until someone finds you).

However, since this is not one of your lucky days and there is not a cabin within five miles, I hope you have some dry matches in your pants pocket.

If you have gone hunting on the lake in a twelve-foot boat, forgot your life jacket, didn't have any paddle or a sack of duck decoys in the boat and had just removed a seat from the boat to make room for more hunting gear, and now you remember that you never got around to getting a waterproof-watertight container to carry matches in while duck hunting—All I can say is, I hope you have your life insurance paid up because unless someone comes along very soon you are going to die from exposure.

Seriously, dry matches could make the difference between dying and being able to signal for help or at least get warm and dry. If you don't carry matches now, take them on your next duck hunting trip. You can use any small glass bottle with a good screw type cap, a used film container, or any small container that would be watertight to carry the matches in while hunting. Also there are several types of fire starting devices that can be purchased at your favorite sporting goods store.

May all your hunting be safe & enjoyable.

Calloway County's New Conservation Officer

New Game Warden Assigned To Calloway County

Gerald "Jerry" Alexander was officially assigned to Calloway County as the new conservation officer on Oct. 16. Officer Alexander is anxious to meet all sportsmen of the area.

Alexander was born and raised in Fulton County and was graduated from Casey High School. Shortly after graduation he entered the Army. Upon discharge from the military in 1959, he went to work in Detroit.

Alexander began his law enforcement career in 1967 when he took a job as a Washtenaw County, Michigan deputy sheriff. He remained there until his return to Fulton County, Kentucky in May, 1974. Alexander was employed by the Fulton Police Department until his appointment as a conservation officer on Oct. 16.

Officer Alexander now resides on Route 7, Murray. His phone number for those interested in reporting wildlife violations is 435-4548.

Alexander has two brothers who are also conservation officers. Brother James has been an officer for 20 years and serves Fulton County, and brother Joe has served McCracken County for 12 years.

WELCOME "Jerry" Alexander.

THE ONE THAT ALMOST GOT AWAY: Marlin Pierce, of Kirksey, displays his fourth deer harvested with bow and arrow. The seven point, 133 lb. buck was taken during first portion of the LBL bow season. Pierce used a 50 lb. recurve, aluminium arrow and a Bear razor-head to tag this fine animal.

Four Wheeling

By Hamp Brooks

Our article today concerns Christmas of all things. By the time you read this she may have noticed and if she does, the set of tires in the picture will probably deserve to go on record as being the highest priced set of tires ever purchased in Murray. Mark it down as another chapter in the wife's battle with her husband's other love.

Most of you who are regular readers of the column are acquainted with the "Red Runt." It is a 1972 Jeep CJ5 bearing a coat of slightly scratched red paint in addition to several other wounds and scars of offroad skirmishes incurred through the past several years. It is also a part of our family.

The "Red Runt" got the nod for some daily transportation last week when the family car succeeded in having a malfunction of the heater core and sprayed itself inside with a liberal coat of antifreeze. The wife promptly stole the pickup leaving yours truly on foot or in the "Red Runt" until such time as the car could be fixed. It was ready to leap to the call of duty as always, although with some difficulty due to a flat battery and three flat tires. Having journeyed through forty thousand miles of life on two sets of tires calculated to last about sixteen thousand miles per set, the last was understandable.

After getting the tires aired up and the battery rejuvenated one fine morning the "Red Runt" and I happened to stop in by one of the advertisers in this section. Amidst noises like Christmas special, bigger and better, still be running when the jeep lays down and dies, good tobacco prices this year, and super good deal on tire and wheel trade in; you guessed it. Yes honey, we did.

A set of ten inch wide Cal Chrome white spoke wheels was fitted with a set of the new National Commando XT tires in the 12 x 15 size, Load Range C. Thirty-three inches tall with an overall width of more than fourteen inches, these brutes look like business. And the projected tread life on a vehicle of this weight should exceed sixty thousand miles. That ought to get the "Red Runt" up to about 1990. The price was very reasonable except for one thing: Do you know what they are selling micro wave ovens for these days? By the time the wife reads this I will!

Every year at this time we are besieged with several requests for ideas of what would be good Christmas presents for four wheelers. One woman last year called to inquire about the price of a winch which she was considering giving as a Christmas present. After telling her something like five hundred dollars and up there was a

Hustling Calloway Falls Short In Upset Effort

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

There are some birds who are supposed to cause a lot of problems for the folks in western Kentucky this winter. Friday night was the ideal night, complete with rain and cold weather for the magical chemical of turgitol.

There was only one problem. Robert Slone didn't have quite enough turgitol. The birds were the Mayfield Cardinals, the turgitol was a vicious press employed by Slone's Calloway County Lakers. And though the birds had their feathers ruffled and even lost some, they came away with a 62-61 win over Calloway County.

For a while, those birds were flying high, coasting along with a 20-point lead in the final quarter. They even looked like they might be on the brink of developing into the top team in the Region, which in the latest poll of coaches they are.

And then suddenly, Slone brought out the turgitol. And what happened was about four minutes of the most exciting and unbelievable rally you could want to see.

It was 60-40 in favor of Mayfield with 3:56 left in the game when junior guard Randy McCallon hit on a rebound layup to cut the Cardinal lead to 18 points. Just 42 seconds later, the biggest bird of them all, 6-5 All-Region forward Don Hubbard, fouled out. Mike Wells hit a free throw and it was 60-43.

"It would have been almost impossible for me to think we could make a game of it and actually get close enough to have a chance to win," Slone said.

Make a game was not the word for it. The Lakers made it a mockery, a murder.

Showing devastating speed and at times moving like five chickens flopping around with their heads just chopped off, the Lakers were all over the court.

Meanwhile, Mayfield was all over the court too. They were all over the court chasing bad passes, sitting on the floor in disbelief after being outmuscled on the boards by Calloway County and in general, about as disorganized a tent revival led by Billy Carter.

When the Lakers trailed 60-43 after Hubbard had left the floor, Mike Wells became a one-man show. He went flying through the air to hit a tip, came back with a three-point play then Randy McCallon stole the ball and drove for a two-pointer and it was 60-50 with 1:57 left in the game.

Wells hit another layup then hit a free throw with 1:30 left before 6-4 junior reserve Craig Sims hit two free throws to pull the Cardinals out to a seemingly safe 62-53 lead.

The lead turned out to be about as safe as walking through downtown Detroit at night with a box of diamond rings.

And speaking of diamonds, it came Futrell's turn to sparkle. He canned a 20-footer and after which, Mayfield called for a timeout with 60 seconds left to play. The Cardinals again lost the ball and again, Futrell made it a video replay with a 20-footer from the left keyhole.

Marc Darnell fouled 6-8 David Youngblood who missed a free throw and Jimmy Lamb got the rebound for the Lakers. Pop! Futrell again canned a 20-footer and it was 62-59 with 16 seconds left.

Trying to be charitable for the Christmas season, Mayfield again threw the ball away and Futrell hit another 25-footer to make it 62-61 with just three seconds left.

Mayfield could not get the ball inbounds but since there was only three seconds left, they could not have been called for a five-second violation, which they probably would have been if there had been five seconds left.

The Lakers had jumped out to a 10-2 lead in the first period but in the second quarter, the height advantage began to pay off and the Cardinals pulled out to a 30-24 lead at intermission.

It was a 44-34 lead for the Cardinals late in the third period before Mayfield scored the last eight points to go up 52-34 and set the stage for the final quarter.

Mayfield pulled down 48 rebounds in the game while the Lakers had 37. Mike Wells led the Lakers with 13 caroms while McCallon and Lamb each had seven.

"We can look back and find a lot of ifs. We just didn't play four quarters, I'd say we played about three and one-half really," Slone said.

"I was very pleased with the comeback but still, it's a loss. I think we have found that we can come back after a loss and play good ball," Slone added.

Slone was referring to the Lakers' 79-62 setback at Marshall County Tuesday.

The Lakers hit just 11 of 20 free throws, which was the major "if" in the game.

On the other side, Mayfield Coach Bob Sparks was not in a talkative mood and was more concerned about being "misquoted" in the newspaper than he was talking about the game.

Sparks said he felt the loss of Hubbard was the major reason the Cardinals fell apart in the final minutes.

"When you lose a 32½-point scorer, it has to hurt," were his exact words.

"The kids definitely let up," he added.

Hubbard wasn't a 32½-point scorer against the Lakers. He was held to 14 points by the Lakers' Marc Darnell.

Youngblood scored 16 while Sims came off the bench to score 14 in an impressive effort.

For the Lakers, Wells popped in 20 points while Futrell had 17, all in the second half. Jimmy Lamb added 12 as did McCallon, who had a superb game.

Mayfield is now 2-1 for the season while the Lakers are 4-4.

The Lakers visit Ballard Memorial tonight before hosting Trigg County Tuesday.

Tale Of Two Cities Says Little For Either One

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Call it a tale of two cities.

Here is Seattle, a rainy, overcast, often-gloomy community whose weather doesn't seem to match the Seahawks.

And there is Tampa, whose bright sun never seems to shine on the Buccaneers.

The first season ends Sunday for these two babies of the National Football League. The Seahawks have a shot at matching five other expansion teams—Minnesota, Atlanta, New Orleans, Cincinnati and Miami—which ended their first seasons with 3-11 records. Seattle is 2-11 heading into Philadelphia.

The Bucs have a chance to achieve a feat unmatched in the history of the league. If they lose to New England, they'll have staggered through a 14-game season without so much as a tie to show for it. The worst previous records were 0-11 by the 1942 Detroit Lions and 0-11-1 by the 1960 expansion Dallas Cowboys.

In Sunday's other games, it's St. Louis at the New York Giants and Washington at Dallas with the Cards and Redskins fighting for the National Conference wild card, Cleveland at Kansas City, Cincinnati at the New York Jets, Green Bay at Atlanta, Buffalo at Baltimore, Denver at Chicago, San Francisco at New Orleans and San Diego at Oakland.

Today, Pittsburgh is at Houston with a chance to win the American Conference Central title, Minnesota visits Miami and, tonight Los Angeles is at Detroit.

Seattle's southpaw quarterback, Jim Zorn, has a chance to set a rookie single-season passing record. He has thrown for 2,334 yards and needs 173 to equal Dennis Shaw's 2,507, set in 1970 for Buffalo.

New England quarterback Steve Grogan has thrown for 18 scores and run for 11 to account for 29 of the club's 42 touchdowns. He will be operating against a Tampa Bay defense which has given up 20 touchdowns rushing and 19 passing. Steve Spurrier, who sat out the Bucs' 42-0 wallowing by Pittsburgh last week, returns as the quarterback with Terry Hanratty returning to the bench.

Buoniconti

Ends Career

MIAMI (AP) — Middle-linebacker Nick Buoniconti ends his 14-year National Football League career today as the Miami Dolphins host the playoff-bound Minnesota Vikings in the Orange Bowl.

"It's my last game, absolutely," said Buoniconti, 35, a star of the Dolphins' championship teams of 1972 and 1973. "My wife has given me the ultimatum. This is it."

Buoniconti came out of retirement this season after the Dolphins lost linebackers Kim Bokamper, Earnest Rhone and Mike Kolen with injuries.

He had missed all the 1975 season after suffering a broken thumb in preseason.

R-Value...

It's more important than inches

It's a number that tells how resistant insulation is to heat flow. The higher the number the better. But six inches of one type of insulation doesn't necessarily have the same R-value as six inches of another type.

For existing homes, we recommend at least R-19 insulation over your ceiling and R-11 under your floor—and in walls if you build or remodel. This insulation will pay for itself in about 3 years because you'll use fewer kilowatt-hours of electricity to stay comfortable year round.

Insulate your own home with the help of our free booklet A Handyman's Guide to Installing Home Insulation. And when you buy insulation, be sure to ask the dealer about R-value.

FLYING TIP—Mike Wells (45) came flying through the lane to tip in this shot for two of his game-high 20 points. Behind Wells are David Youngblood (32) and Jeff Hill (50) while Craig Sims (14) watches. Wells' tip came at the 2:41 mark of the final period and made it a 60-45 game. The Lakers outscored Mayfield 16-2 from there on out but lost by a point. (Staff Photos by Mike Brandon)

Barnes Has Newfound Interest-Basketball

By The Associated Press
Marvin Barnes is on the rebound. The troubled forward of the Detroit Pistons has a new-found interest—basketball.

"All I want to do is play basketball and try to get a ring on my hand," said Barnes after helping the Pistons to a 106-104 National Basketball Association victory over the New York Nets Friday night.

Barnes is considered to be so talented that Pistons' General Manager Oscar Feldman paid $500,000 for him in the American Basketball Association dispersal draft.

But despite his talents, Barnes has been considered a problem. He has left his teams several times, has come down with "mysterious" injuries and most recently, had a one-year suspended sentence for an assault charge revoked when he violated parole by carrying a gun.

In the other NBA games, Phoenix defeated Boston 107-103; Portland trimmed Buffalo 103-102; Washington stopped Indiana 98-88; Chicago defeated New Orleans 92-78; San Antonio ripped Milwaukee 136-120; Los Angeles whipped Houston 109-99 and Seattle topped Golden State 99-93.

Phoenix 107, Celtics 103

Ricky Sobers scored 25 points and backcourt mate Paul Westphal added 21 as Phoenix built a big lead and hung on to beat Boston. The Suns, beaten for the NBA championship in a sixgame playoff with the Celtics last spring, evened their record at 10-10.

Murray State To Play At Home Tonight

Murray State's Racers, 3-2 for the season, will play Arkansas College in the MSU Sports Arena tonight. The MSU women's team will play Eastern Kentucky in the first game of a double header.

The women's game will begin at 5:15 o'clock, the men's game at 7:30. The Lady Racers were 1-2 going into a game at Lambuth College Thursday.

Arkansas College is 4-2 for the season with victories over Missouri Baptist, Missouri-St. Louis, Christian Brothers, and Quachita, and losses to Missouri-Rolla, and Arkansas Tech.

The Scot starters are 6-5 Lee Andrew Smith and 6-6 Mike Dilligard, forwards; Clifton Avant, center; and 6-0 Maurice Snipe and 5-7 Keven Hurt, guards. Smith has averaged 15.7 points this season, Dilligard 11.1, Avant 14.5, Snipe 10.5, and Hurt 9.8.

The Racers edged past Missouri Southern 69-66 Wednesday to go over the 500 mark for the first time this season. Forwards Mike Muff and Zach Blasingame had 22 and 21 points, respectively, in the game. Muff also had 14 rebounds. Muff, who had 32 points against Butler last Saturday night, now leads the Racers in scoring with an average of 20.2. Woolard has averaged 17.6 points, Donnell Wilson 9.4, Blasingame 9.0, and Jimmy Warren 6.2. Muff and Wilson have each averaged 8.8 rebounds and Woolard 7.6.

Jackie Mounts is pacing the Lady Racers in both scoring and rebounding with averages of 17.7 and 13.0. Debbie Hayes has averaged 14.3 points and 7.1 rebounds and Bev Parrish 7.7 points and 5.7 rebounds.

The women's team has beaten Southeast Missouri 105-47 and lost to Western Kentucky 77-50 and Union 89-73.

Flying Dutchmen Could Become Household Word With A Win Tonight

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Hofstra is hardly a household name—not even in Pittsburgh.

"We had a cab driver and a bus driver on the way into town say, 'Hofstra Who?'" noted Coach Ralph Gaekler.

But the Flying Dutchmen could be known in some households tonight if they beat Southern Illinois in the finals of the Pittsburgh Classic.

The college basketball team, with the anonymous image defeated Duquesne 76-70 Friday night to advance to the championship round against the 17th-ranked Salukis, who beat Pitt 72-67.

Here's a quick rundown on the Flying Dutchmen: They're off to a 4-1 start this season after compiling an 18-12 record last year and winning the East Coast Conference playoffs. Defeated by Connecticut 80-78 in overtime in the NCAA regionals, the Flying Dutchmen have returned one of the nation's most fearsome rebounders in John Irving.

Irving's performance complemented a 29-point night by Rich Laurel and preceded another superb show by Mike Glenn of Southern Illinois. The Salukis' extraordinary guard poured in 32 points to help turn back Pitt.

In other tournaments Friday night, sixth-ranked San Francisco defeated No. 15 Tennessee 86-77 and Utah trimmed Seton Hall 95-86 in the Utah Classic at Salt Lake City; Idaho State whipped Georgia Tech 88-72 and Marshall stopped Columbia 79-78 in the opening round of the Marshall Memorial Invitational in Huntington, W. Va.; North Carolina-Charlotte downed Lamar 91-86 and New Mexico State stopped Northern Arizona 82-77 in the Roadrunner Invitational at Las Cruces, N.M., and Niagara defeated Xavier of Ohio 46-44 and Brigham Young trounced Seattle 91-65 in the Cougar Classic in Provo, Utah.

Also, Long Beach State outscored Butler 63-50 and Southern Cal trimmed Grambling 83-75 in the Trojan Classic in Los Angeles; St. Francis, Pa., walloped Georgia State 74-56 and Stetson turned back LIU 57-47 in the Hatter Classic in Deland, Fla.; Texas A&M whipped Houston Baptist 87-72 and Southwestern Louisiana nudged Centenary 91-88 in double overtime in the Bayou Classic in Lafayette, La., and Cal State Fullerton beat South Alabama 89-71 and Pepperdine trimmed Azusa Pacific 83-62 in the Malibu Classic in Los Angeles.

Elsewhere, ninth-ranked Arizona stopped Northwestern 78-64. Sophomores James Hardy and Winford Boynes each scored 18 points to lead San Francisco past Tennessee. Jeff Judkins scored 29 points, mostly from the outside, and Buster Mathenay muscled in many of his 27 points from

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By Lucrece Beale

Synopsis: Billy and Santa travel across the seas in a turtle boat. They visit three fabulous islands before they come to the Island of Jewels.

CHAPTER EIGHT THE ROSANNA RUBY

The turtle boat landed on the shores of the island. Santa and Billy stepped out into a garden of jewels.

Emerald trees and diamond bushes and opal flowers bordered the walks of the garden. Sapphires and turquoise glittered in the grass. The precious stones sparkled in the sunlight and tinkled softly in the breeze.

A beautiful pixie came to meet them. She wore a pearl diadem on her head and a jade locket hung from her throat.

"Welcome," said the pixie. "I hope you like our garden."

"It is beautiful," said Santa. "But we do not have time to enjoy it."

He told her how Billy must slay Goko the giant because Goko had captured the Fairy Queen and the moon and vowed to capture Santa and rule all of Fairyland.

The pixie was very disturbed because this meant the giant would rule the Isle of Jewels. "What can I do?" she moaned.

Santa asked if she would give Billy the Rosanna Ruby. The pixie led them to the ruby grove and pointed to a brilliant stone.

"This is the fairest jewel on the isle," she said. "I would gladly give it to you but it cannot be plucked from its branch unless Billy solves a problem."

"What problem?" asked Billy eagerly.

"An arithmetic problem," said the pixie.

Billy sighed. Of all school subjects arithmetic had been the one he hated most. He had never done his lessons at all. He never believed a giant fighter would need arithmetic and spelling and boring things like that.

"What is the problem?" asked Santa.

The pixie said, "Billy has 24 apple pies. Billy eats thirteen. I eat one. You eat two. What is Billy left with?"

Billy got a stick and drew numbers in the dirt. He added and subtracted and crossed things out. He screwed up his face and chewed on his tongue and oh! how he wished he had paid attention at school.

Suddenly he had an answer. He cried, "If I had 24 apple pies and I ate thirteen and you ate one and Santa ate two I would be left with a stomach ache!"

The pixie held her sides and doubled up with laughter. "That's not the answer I had in mind but it will do!" she said and she plucked the ruby from its branch. She placed the stone in Billy's hands and said, "May this jewel help you slay the wicked giant!"

Then Billy and Santa climbed back into the turtle's upside down shell and sailed back across the sea to the land of the Harp Witch.

The witch had not been idle while they were gone. She had made a necklace out of the hairs from her own head woven with the webs of a hundred black widow spiders and the wool from the backs of a thousand caterpillars. She took the Rosanna Ruby and placed it carefully in the center of the band. It blazed with such flaming beauty it was certain the giant would not be able to resist it.

"But the band is so small," said Billy. "How will it fit around the giant's neck?"

The witch said the necklace would expand or shrink to fit any size and Billy must be careful not to wear it himself or it would work its magic on him.

Billy put it away in his pocket and Santa said he was ready to go fight Goko the giant. But the witch said, "What about all the other giants? Goko's brothers and his cousins and his nephews? They all live together in Goko's castle."

"W-what about them?" quavered Billy.

"You must destroy them ALL!" cried the witch.

Tomorrow: The Laughing Ghost

Bro. John Dale To Speak At Church Of Christ Here

"The Deeper Purpose of Life" will be the subject of the sermon by Bro. John Dale, minister of the Seventh and Poplar Church of Christ, at the 8:30 a. m. and 10:40 a. m. services on Sunday, December 12, at the church.

His scripture will be from II Corinthians 4:16-5:1.

Alan Jones will direct the song service, Jack Ward will make the announcements, Paul Kelly will read the scripture, and John Steele and William Gargus will lead in prayers for the 8:30 service.

At the 10:40 service Jerry Bolls will direct the song service, Ed Thomas will make the announcements, Mike Thomas will read the scripture, and Johnny Bohannon and Edward Thomas will lead the prayers.

The sermon topic for the six p. m. service will be "God Answers Man's Three Great Questions" with Freddie Kirkland to read the scripture from Gen. 2:7 and Ecc. 12:13, 14, Ed Thomas to make the announcements, Jerry Bolls to direct the song services, and Webb Caldwell and Raymond Hamlin to lead in prayers.

Presiding for The Lord's Supper at 8:30 a. m. will be Gene Karraker and Gene Paul King and at 10:40 a. m. will be Charles Humphreys and Ken Humphreys. Lisa Wallin will be the teen nursery helper.

Bud Gibbs, Kerry Gillihan, James Harris, and Roy Harmon will serve on the Extension Department.

Bible study will be held at 9:40 a. m. Sunday.

New Home Found For Farmer Bus Residents

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Welfare officials have found a new home for a Kanawha County woman who was living with her two children in a school bus health officials called "unfit for human habitation."

Ruth Elmore, 25, and her children were placed in a

Charleston hotel Thursday, hours after a newspaper story told of their plight. State and welfare officials planned to locate an apartment for the three this weekend.

Mrs. Elmore, her 5-year-old daughter, Sarah, and 21-month-old son, Paul, were living on $130 a month in food stamps. She said her husband, whom she is divorcing, comes home every few months.

A medical social worker for the county health department, Randy Augustine, described the bus, located near Sissonville, as "one of the worst places I've ever seen in West Virginia or Kanawha County."

Mrs. Elmore said she wired the bus for electricity. It did not have running water.

Mother Of Slain Boy Defies Judge's Power

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP) — A mother convicted of helping four other cult members beat her 3-year-old son to death in an attempted exorcism defied a judge's authority as he sentenced her to 20 years in prison.

"My judgment is before God," Debra Weibacher, 20, said Wednesday as she and the others were sentenced for manslaughter and assault in the death of her son, David.

"I can't believe the rottenness of this country and the court," she said after sentencing by Superior Court Judge Howard Hettinger.

Edward Leon Cunningham, 51, the self-proclaimed "minister of God" and cult leader, told the courtroom: "God hasn't found me guilty. That's why I have no emotions. I'm not guilty before God. He will judge me."

"The court finds its guidance in God also," the judge replied.

Cunningham testified earlier that he saw the devil in David and ordered him thrashed with bare hands and sticks over a four-month period until the boy collapsed and died in July.

The boy's body was put on a cot in a back bedroom, and household members took turns guarding the door 24 hours a day to ward off the devil. They said they expected the boy to be resurrected.

A policeman searching the house found his body on Sept. 19.

Mrs. Weibacher, Cunningham and Cunningham's daughter, Carolyn, 27, were each given two consecutive 10-year prison sentences for first-degree manslaughter and second-degree assault.

Before you buy... check the features of a Thermador microwave oven!

Thermador Model MC17 Microwave Oven

Only Thermador has this unique Stay-Hot Control that maintains your food at serving temperature without overcooking. Crisps food that needs to be crisp. Keeps bread, rolls and even plates warm... a Thermador exclusive!

The 3 Power Levels of the Thermador microwave oven give you total flexibility in cooking. Low and medium are ideal for defrosting or "slow cooking" stews or sauces. High gives you typical microwave speed.

Thermador's browner element adds the "finished" look to roasts, chicken, even meringue pies.

The Thermador microwave oven has a deluxe finish, with stainless steel interior, simulated rosewood control panel and beautiful black glass door.

Your Thermador microwave oven may be built-in (with optional KIT-1 installation kit).
